

Experiential Healing Center

... where change is the experience

1713 Lockett Place • Memphis, TN 38104 • 901-372-0710 • EHCmemphis.com

Equine Weekend

with Dede Beasley, M.Ed., L.P.C.
April 23-26, 2020

This is my ten year anniversary doing these weekend workshops for EHC. These days, as I arrive for what I consider the next adventure, the barn, the staff and, of course, the horses feel like home to me. I don't know specifically what will happen because truly each gathering is unique but I do know some things, some things that are predictable and wonderful. I know that Thursday evening, everyone's initial experience with each other and with the horses is the beginning of a process that will bring opportunities for new awareness, opportunities for small changes that can make big differences, and big changes that will make small but important differences in day-to-day life. I know that in the time we are together, we will share in experiences of genuine healing and reparation for wounds still with us from the past. I know that we will feel many things together and I know that we will celebrate.

My top priority is always to provide a safe, respectful and trauma-informed opportunity to work with addiction, trauma and codependency. When participants feel safe, what needs attention has a way of revealing itself. I am including contact information for registration below. But if you have any questions at all for me, I am at ponypeople53@gmail or 615.308.5564.

And if you decide this is a good time for you to join us for this particular adventure, I look forward to seeing you in April.

For more information from EHC or to register, please call EHC's main office at 901-372-0710 or email ehcmemphisprograms@gmail.com.